FIRST GENERATION

1. Capt. William Curtis HOLLOPETER was born on 24 AUG 1833 in Wooster, Wayne County, Ohio.^{1,2,3,4,5} He moved in MAR 1847 to Cedar Creek Township, Allen County, IN.^{6,7,8} "One summer day Will and a neighbor boy, along with Mary Ann and her sister Tillie, went over to the creek," wrote Col. Hugh Carnahan in his Stories of The Family, published in The Hollopeter Family Record, pg 51. "Here they stirred up and killed a rattlesnake. Rattlers were scarce in that part of Indiana, so the encounter had everyone's nerves on edge. On the way home the boys told the girls to stick close to them and they would protect them. Mary Ann said afterward that she had seen them whispering together before this and should have known better than to stick close to them. The boys were wearing heavy cowhide boots with their homespun trousers tucked in them, the girls the usual calico dresses and sunbonnets. When the boys with the girls crowding trustfully at their heels came through a hay field they suddenly began kicking apart a large bumble bee nest. Of course they got stung a few times but it was worth it to see the girls run toward the house, screaming and swinging their sunbonnets at the maddened bees. William got well licked for it but probably just charged that one off to education and experience."

Col. Carnahan continues, "Once William persuaded Mary Ann and James to hold a grain sack over a hole in a hollow log while he punched out a chipmunk so they could have it for a pet. When they were all set and he had the stick inserted in the log he remarked, "Look out, there might be yellow jackets in here." There were, and two trusting souls got well stung. Also William's education was further enlarged."

"Farming was their pursuit," records the 1880 History of Allen County, "and William C. continued with his parents, aiding at this vocation, until the summer of 1854, when he became of age."

The Valley of the Upper Maumee records, "When Capt. Hollopeter came to Indiana the family settled on the old homestead, where there was about five acres cleared." He was a schoolteacher in winters and farmer in summers between 1854 and 1862.⁹ He graduated about 1858 in Methodist College at Fort Wayne, IN.^{10,11} The Valley of the Upper Maumee River explains, "He previously taught one term of school and taught four terms after attending college." He served in the military between 1862 and 1865 in Co. C, 88th Indiana Volunteer Infantry.^{12,13,14,15,16,17,18,19,20,21,22,23,24,25} His personal description at enlistment in 1862 was as follows: "Height, 6 feet 1 inches; complexion, fair; color of eyes, gray; color of hair, auburn; that his occupation was Farmer."

The History of Allen County, written during his lifetime, recorded, "A patriot to his country, on August 28, 1862, to help maintain the Stars and Stripes, he enlisted as a private soldier in Company C, Eighty-eighth Regiment Indiana Volunteer Infantry. At the organization of the company, he was appointed Corporal; on February 18, 1863, he was advanced to First Lieutenant of his company, and on October 24 following, was commissioned its Captain. He was with his company and regiment during their entire service - the same being attached to the Army of the Cumberland. He was in seventeen distinct engagements and received two severe wounds; fought under Gens. Rosecranz and Thomas, and participated in Sherman's march to the sea. Remaining in the service till after the surrender, until the old flag was again unfurled to every State and to every people of our broad Union (without dispute), Capt. Hollopeter received his discharge at Washington, D.C., June 7, 1865." The final muster roll of that regiment bears the remark after his name, "Discharged for disability from wounds".

The Valley of the Upper Maumee gives another account of his war years: "In 1862 he enlisted in Company C, Eighty-eighth Indiana Volunteer infantry, as a private; was appointed second corporal same month, and on December 26, 1862, was promoted fourth sergeant; April, 1863, was elected first lieutenant, and November 24, 1863, was promoted captain. He was honorably discharged June 7, 1865, at Indianapolis. He was with Sherman in his celebrated march to the sea; was wounded at Mission Ridge, and at Bentonville, N. C."

"On one occasion," wrote Col. Hugh Carnahan in Stories of The Family, published in The Hollopeter Family Record, "the regiment was on the front line during a stable situation, but had trouble with bushwhackers killing sentries on one of their posts. Finally William volunteered to take the post. After midnight the moon came out. In a little while a hog started grunting and rooting, working slowly toward him. He thought this a little peculiar for a hog to be feeding at this time of night, so he covered it with his rifle and challenged once. The hog kept grunting and working closer. At the crack of his rifle it stopped. In the morning a man wrapped up in a hog skin, with a gun strapped to his back was found dead in front of the post. No more sentries were killed on this post."

Officers were required to sign an Oath of Allegiance after July, 1862. After his commission as a First Lieutenant, William signed the following oath: "I, William C. Hollopeter, do solemnly swear (or affirm) that I have never voluntarily borne arms against the United States since I have been a citizen thereof; that I have voluntarily given no aid, countenance, counsel, or encouragement to persons engaged in armed hostility thereto; that I have neither sought nor accepted nor attempted to exercise the functions of any office whatever under any authority or pretended authority in hostility to the United States; that I have not yielded a voluntary support to any pretended government, authority, power, or constitution within the United States, hostile or inimical thereto. And I do further swear (or affirm) that, to the best of my knowledge and ability, I will support and defend the Constitution of the United States against all enemies, foreign and domestic; that I will bear true faith and allegiance to the same; that I take this obligation freely, without any mental reservation or purpose of evasion; and that I will well and faithfully discharge the duties of the office on which I am about to enter, so help me God. Subscribed and Sworn at Murfreesboro Tenn, May 1863. [Signed] William C."

Hollopeter, First Lieutenant, Co. C 88th Ind."

William's first battle injury occurred at Missionary Ridge. John Jones gave the following eyewitness account: "I was Sergeant of Co "C" 88th Regt Ind "Vol" Inftry in the Battle of Chattanooga, the charge on Mission Ridge. Capt William C. Hollopeter was wounded by gun shot wound in his Head over the left eye. I saw him when he was struck with the Ball. and saw him fall. I went to him at once and he said tell Mulissa I died a soldier - I took him to the Hospital and left him there in Charge of the Surgeon - Five Dayes after I called and saw him and found him Suffering severely with _____ in his Head. so badly that his eyes were both swollen shut and he was unable to distinguish us only by the Voice. he could not see any one. I was Ranking officer of the Company until we were taken charge of by Lieut Dexter L. Thomas of Co "A" 88th Regt.

John Jones' 1891 testimony continued, "I know he has been a sufferer from the effects of his wounds and have heard him often complain of his Head ever since. have met him as often as once or twice a year since our discharge."

John Jones described the event again in 1893. "I was a member of "Co." C. "88" "Regt." Ind. "Vols," Inftry." and I do know that at the Battle of Missionary Ridge on or about the 25th day of November 1863 he was injured by a gunshot ball in the head near the part of the hair and I caught him as he fell and took a handkerchief from his pocket and bound up the wound. I then placed him behind a large stone for protection and was then shortly ordered by the Colonel to take him to the rear which I did and finally got him into a hospital. I was acting orderly of the company at the time Capt. Hollopeter was wounded."

From Hospital No. 1 at Johnson's Division, Chattanooga, Tenn, William submitted the following request, in his own handwriting, on December 23, 1863: "Sir, I have the honor to make application for a Leave of Absence for the period of Twenty days. on account of Physical Disability as for Surgeon's certificate herein enclosed.

"I was severely wounded Nov 25th 1863 at the Storming of Missionary Ridge while in Command of my Company since which time I have been unable for duty and confined to the Hospital. I think a short return to my home will greatly hasten my recovery and enable me to return to duty sooner than I otherwise could if I remained. My Post Office address during my absence will be, Leo P. O. Allen County Indiana. [Signed] Very Respectfully Your obdt Servant, William C Hollopeter 1st Lieutenant". He left on that leave January 6, 1864.

E. H. Dunn, Surgeon in Charge at Johnsons Div. Hospital, declared regarding William's request for leave: "I do hereby certify that I have carefully examined this Officer and find that he is slowly convalescing from an attack of Emsi-----, caused by taking cold in a scalp wound, the result of injury from a bullet, received in the battle of Missionary Ridge. I further declare my belief that he will not be able to resume his duties in a less period of time." He was permitted a 20-day leave of absence to visit home.

A Fort Wayne doctor submitted the following letter on 18 Jan 1864: "I certify on honor, that I have carefully examined Lieut. William C. Hollopeter, Co C of the 88th TRegt Indiana Volunteers at home on furlough on 20 Jan inst, and find that he is incapable of performing military duty, because of a gun-shot wound of the head and that he will not be fit for duty for twenty (20) days for the -----."

He was back on duty in February 1864.

His second battle injury occurred in the closing days of the Civil War during Sherman's March to the Sea. In his Declaration for Invalid Pension, filed 19 Jun 1865, he reported "that while in the service aforesaid, and in the line of his duty, near a place called Bentonville, in the State of North Carolina, on the 19th day of March 1865, he received a wound by a musket ball in the upper third of the right thigh." An accompanying statement by _____, Lt. Colonel Commanding, 88th Regt Ind Infy Vols, added that William C. Hollopeter "while in the line of his duty as a soldier in action with the enemy wounded by a musketball in the upper third of the right thigh."

In a statement supporting his pension dated 19 January 1867, William described his injury in the following words: "says he was late Captain of Company 'C' 88 Regiment of Indiana Infantry in the United States Service in the late Rebellion. That he was wounded at the Battle of Bentonville North Carolina in the upper right thigh by a gun shot wound on or about the 19th day of March 1865 in the line of duty in command of his company.

"That he was discharged from said service," continued the statement, "on the ____ of June 1865 at Washington, D.C. by general order from War Department." According to his 'Record and Pension Office' report he was discharged "Cause service no longer required and physical disability." It further stated that "he was wounded severely in thigh Mch 19th at Bentonville. Sent to Hospl to New York City."

A month after the injury, on April 16th, 1865, William sent the following request from DeCamp General Hospital on David's Island, New York Harbor: "Colonel, I, William C. Hollopeter, Capt Co. C. 88th Regt Indiana Vol Inftry, a patient in this Hospital, have the honor to apply for a leave of absence of Twenty days for the purpose of proceeding to Leo Allen County, Indiana. I am Sir Very Respectfully Your Obt Servt, Wm C. Hollopeter".

The Record and Pension Office report continues: "The medical records show him as follows: As W. C. Hollopeter, Capt Co. C 88 Ind. wounded Rt thigh Flesh: Treated Apl 6 to 8, 65, (no diagnosis) Apl 8 to 22, 1865 G.S. flesh wd. right thigh rec'd at Bentonville, March 19, 1865, April 23, 65 on leave of absence 20 days."

William C.'s Pension Certificate number was 60794. Beginning ____ June, 1865 he received $20.00 per month pension. At his death, his final payment, issued 4 Nov 1913, was $30.00. He was a member between 1865 and 1880 in Order of A., F. & A. M. (Masonic Lodge).²⁶ He resided between 1865 and 1913 in Cedar Creek Township, Allen County, IN.^{27,28,29,30} The Hollopeter homestead was about two miles south of the Allen/DeKalb County line in Cedar Creek Township, near Leo, in Collingwood. The 1880 History of Allen County shows this farm as the Northwest quarter of Section 7 in Cedar Creek Township, containing 160 acres and a pond. W. C. was active and well known in local affairs in the Township and Allen County.

In a 19 Jan 1867 notarized statement to the Pension Department, William claimed, "That he resides in Cedar Creek Township Allen County Indiana & is a householder therein that his family consists of himself, wife & three children - that on the morning of the 17th day of January instant his two oldest children went to school a distance about one & 1/4 miles from his residence & offiant & his wife & youngest child left home to be absent during the day & was absent until about four or five oclock. When they returned & found his house had caught fire and burned up during his absence as aforesaid consuming everything in the house - that all of his paper including his deed of his land, his military discharge & his Pension Certificate were consumed & entirely destroyed - that he is informed the house took fire about two oclock of said day & was consumed before any person arrived there to save the contents thereof."

The Valley of the Upper Maumee River records that in 1889, "He is one of the prominent citizens of Allen county, and now owns 200 acres of valuable land." He died on 6 NOV 1913 in Cedar Creek Township, Allen County, IN.^{31,32,33,34} He was also known as W. C.. He was a member in Mt. Olivet M. E. Church.^{35,36} "Religiously," says the History of Allen County, "he has been an exemplary member of the Methodist Episcopal Church since the age of sixteen, and his estimable wife since a young girl of nine years." For many years he was Classleader. Three of his sons became Methodist ministers. He was buried in Leo Cemetery, Allen County, Indiana. He was a man of character.³⁷ The 1888 History of Allen County says, "Has ever been a stanch friend of temperance...He is an industrious, good citizen; one whose influence for the right is ever felt. Is an ever willing advocate and supporter of that which elevates while he is just as ready and anxious to repudiate and defeat that which debases. Within the large circle of his acquaintance he is universally esteemed." He was a firm Republican. He however, did not aspire to office. A brief biography of William Curtis Hollopeter and his descendants is found in The Hollopeter Family Record, pages 47 & 48.

Biographical information on William Curtis Hollopeter and his descendants is also found in The Hollopeter Brothers, page 47. A nice circa 1880 engraving of W. C. is found between pages 136-137 in the History of Allen County. Received a packet of Pension Record copies from the National Archives under his name.

He was married to Cynthia A. MOORE on 18 MAY 1858 in Allen County, Indiana.^{38,39,40,41,42} The History of Allen County and Allen County Marriage Records both say they were married May 18, 1858, but The Hollopeter Brothers says they were married 9 May 1858. Cynthia A. MOORE was born on 22 APR 1839 in Delaware County, Indiana.^{43,44,45,46,32} The Valley of the Upper Maumee River reports she was "of Irish descent". She resided in 1857 in Allen County, Indiana.⁴⁷ She resided between 1913 and 1915 in Huntertown, Indiana.⁴⁸ After the death of her husband, Cynthia lived on the family farm for another two years. She received $12 per month pension from the Department of the Interior. Her Pension Certificate No. was 776196. She died on 17 MAR 1915 in Cedar Creek Township, Allen County, IN.^{49,32,50} She was buried in Leo Cemetery, Allen County, Indiana. It is confirmed that Cynthia is not a child of Latham or William A. Moore. Capt. William Curtis HOLLOPETER and Cynthia A. MOORE had the following children:

- 2 i. Milton Roby HOLLOPETER was born in 1859.⁵¹ He died in 1874.^{52,53} Milton was drowned at age 16. He was buried in Leo Cemetery, Allen County, Indiana.
- +3 ii. Rev. Charles McPherson HOLLOPETER.
- +4 iii. Ophelia May HOLLOPETER.
- +5 iv. Rev. Walter M. M. HOLLOPETER.

SECOND GENERATION

3. Rev. Charles McPherson HOLLOPETER was born in 1862.^{54,55} He was a school teacher in 1881 in Leo, Indiana.⁵⁶ He attended the Teacher's Institute at Leo in 1881. He was ordained before 1886 in North Indiana Methodist Conference.^{57,58,59} The Valley of the Upper Maumee River reports he was a Methodist Episcopal minister at Geneva, Adams County, IN, in 1889. An article in an 1899 issue of the Auburn Weekly Courier says that he was minister at an Ossian, IN, church in 1899. The Hollopeter Family Record says he served as an active minister until 1916. However, he served as pastor of the Auburn Methodist Circuit, including Meese Chapel, in 1920/21, and on the Spencerville Methodist Circuit (Spencerville, Mt. Olivet & Norris Chapel) in 1925. He resided in 1934 in Warsaw, Indiana.⁶⁰ He resided before 1944 in Winona Lake, Indiana. He resided at the home of his daughter near Auburn, IN between 1945 and 1947.⁶¹ He resided 109 W. Fourth St., Auburn, IN in 1949.⁶² He died in 1950.⁶³ He was an an employee at the Methodist College at Fort Wayne, IN.

He was married to Martha DANIELS in 1892 in Huntington, Indiana.^{64,65} Martha DANIELS was born in 1868.⁶⁶ She died in 1924.^{67,68} She was also known as Nellie. Rev. Charles McPherson HOLLOPETER and Martha DANIELS had the following children:

- +11 i. William Donald HOLLOPETER Sr..
- 12 ii. HOLLOPETER.

He was married to UNKNOWN. UNKNOWN died in 1945.⁶⁹

4. Ophelia May HOLLOPETER was born on 9 JUN 1866 in Cedar Creek Township, Allen County, IN.^{70,71,72} The Hollopeter Brothers and her obituary both say she was born in 1866, but The Hollopeter Family Record says she was born in 1868 and the Carnahan Family Tree says she was born 9 Jun 1868. She resided before 1934 in Butler Township, DeKalb County, Indiana.⁷³ She resided at the home of her sister, Belle Fitch after 1934.⁷⁴ She resided in a rented house in 1944 in Huntertown, Indiana.⁷⁵ She died on 9 APR 1945 in Methodist Hospital, Fort Wayne, Indiana.^{76,77,78,79,80} She died at 8:30 p.m. as the result of a fall on April 4, in which she suffered a broken hip. She was buried in Mausoleum, Woodlawn Cemetery, Auburn, IN. She was a member in Methodist Church at Huntertown, Indiana. Found Ophelia's obituary in The Evening Star dated 10 Apr 1945, and a brief death notice in The Fort Wayne Journal-Gazette dated 12 Apr 1945.

She was married to William John CARNAHAN (son of Hezekiah Lewis CARNAHAN and Margaret A. MCNABB) on 21 AUG 1889.^{81,42,82} William John CARNAHAN was born on 13 MAY 1860 in Jackson Township, DeKalb County, Indiana.^{83,84,85} He was a member before 1889 in Mt. Olivet M. E. Church. He resided on the farm of his father in Butler Township, DeKalb County, IN between 1889 and 1934.^{86,87} This farm was located in the south half of the northwest quarter of Sec. 36, 7 1/2 miles southwest of Auburn, Indiana, in Butler Township. He later purchased this farm and lived here until his death. "Only about a third of his farm had been cleared when he moved on it and the rest had to be cleared and fenced," recounted his son, Hugh, in his history of the Carnahan family. "A large portion of this woodland was the swamp bottom of an old beaver pond. It was muck with peat moss below it, that could be cut with a spade like turf in Ireland. All of this had to be ditched and tile put in to drain the low places. Through the back part of the place ran the divide between the St. Joe River and Cedar Creek. It was so situated that it drained into the watersheds of three county ditches. Life was just one ditch after another."

He continued, "As he became too feeble to handle the farming operations, he rented out his fields and devoted his time to his bees, chickens and turkeys." He was ill with measles about 1893. Both W. J. and his 2-years old son, Hugh, had the measles at the same time. "W. J. suffered a relapse from which he never fully recovered," remembered his son, Hugh. "From a picture of health, six feet in his socks and weighing around 200 pounds, he shrank in weight and bowed down as rheumatism was added to his affliction."

He died on 22 APR 1934 in Butler Township, DeKalb County, Indiana.^{88,89,90} In his later years he suffered from stomach ulcers and later cancer, which killed him. He was also known as W. J. and John. He was buried in Mausoleum, Woodlawn Cemetery, Auburn, IN. He was a carpenter. "W. J. grew up on his father's farm, attended the district school and learned the rudiments of several trades," reported Hugh L. Carnahan in his history of the Carnahan family. "For several years he followed the carpenter's trade in the country around his home, acting as a contractor most of the time. He was a fair blacksmith, repairing much of the machinery used on the farm. In the winter he repaired the shoes of the family. His interest in things mechanical led him to build a telephone line from his home to that of the nearest neighbor." He was a great reader. He kept a small but well assorted library. He served one term as township trustee and one as township assessor, as well as superintendent of construction on several county ditches. He was a country fiddler. He was elected as Trustee of Butler Township, DeKalb County, IN.⁹¹ He was a member in Mt. Olivet M. E. Church. He was a member in DeKalb Farm Bureau. This is probably the 'William F. Carnahan' found in the 1860 Census of DeKalb County, at 2 months of age. Found John W. & Ophelia in 1920 census of DeKalb County, living on a farm in Butler Township. Found W. J.'s obituary in The Evening Star dated 23 Apr 1934. Ophelia May HOLLOPETER and William John CARNAHAN had the following children:

- 13 i. Col. Hugh Lloyd CARNAHAN was born on 16 FEB 1891 in Butler Township, DeKalb County, Indiana.^{92,93} He served in the military between 1914 and 1946 in U S Army.^{94,95,96} His service numbers were ASN 1167519, 0122016. His tour of duty included both World War I and II. He served on the Mexican border in WW I. In 1917 he was with the headquarters of the Third Indiana Infantry National Guard at Camp Shelby, Miss. and the 137th Field Artillery until December 1918. He received a commission as 2nd Lieutenant, Field Artillery Reserves. He was a Major stationed in Chicago in 1934.

He was ordered to active duty in February 1941. In WW II he was chief of guerilla affairs in Manila, Philippines, and was commander of a prisoner-of-war camp at Camp Hood, Texas from 1943-45. He was a career soldier and retired in the rank of Colonel. He was released from service in April 1947. He was a manager of Carnahan Apartments on Pearse Avenue between 1950 and 1978 in Auburn, Indiana. He died on 14 FEB 1978 in Sacred Heart Home near Avilla, Indiana.⁹⁷ He had been ill for two years. He was never married.⁹⁸ He was buried in Woodlawn Cemetery, Auburn, Indiana. He was also known as H. L.. Found Hugh's obituary in The Evening Star, dated 14 Feb 1978.

i. Herold Keith HOLLOPETER was born in 1909.^{100,32} He died on 1 JUN 1919 in Scipio Township, Allen County, Indiana.^{100,32} He was buried in Woodlawn Cemetery, Auburn, Indiana. He was also known as Keith.

6. Ellen Gertrude HOLLOPETER was born on 7 APR 1872 in Cedar Creek Township, Allen County, IN.^{103,104,105} She resided at R. R. 2, New Haven, Indiana between 1941 and 1945.^{106,107,108} She died on 2 JUL 1949 in the home of her daughter, Faye, in Bryan, Ohio.^{109,110,111} The cause of death was "a broken hip and complications," reports her obituary. "Last Jan. 23, she suffered a fractured hip in a fall and was taken to the Lutheran hospital at Fort Wayne, where she was a patient for eight weeks. After release from the hospital, she was taken to the home of her daughter. She had suffered for the past several months with a heart ailment."

Her obituary continues, "Final rites for Mrs. Gertrude Evard, 77, a former resident of south of Auburn, were conducted at 10 a. m. Tuesday in the Methodist church at New Haven...Rev. Gail Davis officiated at the services Tuesday morning." She was a schoolteacher several years prior to 1898.¹¹² The 'Valley of the Upper Maumee River' says she was a teacher in 1889. She was buried in IOOF Cemetery at New Haven, Indiana.^{113,114,115,116} Jan Herbert, in The Hollopeter Brothers, says she is buried in the Grabill Cemetery, but her obituary and the Carnahan Family Tree both say she is buried in the I.O.O.F. cemetery at New Haven. She was a member in Methodist Church at New Haven, IN.¹¹⁷ She was a member of the Circle Four of the Women's Society for Christian Service. She was also known as Gertrude. A brief biography of Gertrude Hollopeter and her descendants can be found in The Hollopeter Family Record, pages 48 & 49. Gertrude Ellen Hollopeter is found listed in The Hollopeter Brothers, page 47, married to E. T. Carnahan. Found Gertrude's obituaries in an unknown newspaper, dated 1949, The Fort Wayne Journal-Gazette, dated 4 Jul 1949, and The Evening Star, dated 5 Jul 1949.

She was married to Ebben Thomas CARNAHAN (son of Hezekiah Lewis CARNAHAN and Margaret A. MCNABB) on 17 MAR 1898.^{118,119,120,42,121} Ebben was brother of W. J. Carnahan, who married Ophelia Hollopeter, sister to Gertrude. Ebben Thomas CARNAHAN was born on 13 JAN 1871 in Jackson Township, DeKalb County, Indiana.^{122,123,124,125} As a child, he attended No. 9 Jackson Township School. He resided at the family farm between 1920 and 1930 in Jackson Township, DeKalb County, Indiana.^{126,127,128} His obituary reports that his farm was located "six and a half miles south of Auburn east of the Carnahan hill on the Auburn-Fort Wayne road."

This was the farm that his father had developed. Ebben was the only remaining child to stay in this area and worked the farm for his father. He lived here all his life. "The care of his parents and the affairs of the home farm did not occupy all of his time," writes Hugh L. Carnahan in his history of the Carnahan family, "for he purchased the 80-acre farm south of W. J. Carnahan, and after selling this purchased the like tract of land to the north of his brother. On the death of his parents he purchased the home farm from the other heirs."

His obituary, found in the Garrett Clipper, reported Eben "died Thursday morning at 11 o'clock on the farm upon which he was born fifty-nine years ago." He was a "prominent farmer" in 1930 in Jackson Township, DeKalb County, Indiana.¹²⁹ He died on 27 MAR 1930 in Jackson Township, DeKalb County, Indiana.^{130,131,132} His obituary states, "Death came as the result of high blood pressure. Mr. Carnahan had not been well for seven years. During the last year he failed rapidly and during the winter he had been unable to be out of the house." He was buried in Mausoleum, Woodlawn Cemetery, Auburn, IN. Hugh L. Carnahan says he is buried in the Mausoleum at Woodlawn Cemetery, Auburn, IN, however, one source says he is buried in the Grabill Cemetery. He was also known as E. T.. He was a schoolteacher for a number of years.^{58,133} He taught at Auburn in 1899/1900. He was a Census

Enumerator for Jackson Township in the 1900 Census. He ran for Constable, as a Republican, in the 1900 election (results unknown). He was described as wearing a large straw colored mustache. "This mustache was also the mark of his brothers, W. J. and Jim, as well as several of his cousins. To my knowledge," remembered Hugh L. Carnahan, "it was worn by Milt, son of Bailey D., Marion, son of William John, and Abner, son of Wilson S....He read widely, was interested in all the local affairs and developments in farming. He always enjoyed hunting and knew the hills and woods around his home as well as their owners did." He was a country fiddler. According to his cousin, Hugh Carnahan, in his Carnahan family history, "Before television, radio, or the wheezy phonograph, winter evenings were long and dull. Anyone who could enliven a country gathering with a few old dance tunes was a welcome addition to the party. No one ever made a fortune at it, but they did get a lot of fun out of playing for these affairs which were not always approved by the good pillars of the church." He probably learned to play from his Uncle Wilson Carnahan. Found Eben & Gertrude in the 1920 DeKalb County Census living on a farm in Jackson Township. John E. Harter, ASN 35549610, Inf. Co. B., APO 15110, New York. He was injured on Anzio Beach on May 28, 1944, five days after the initial invasion. Of over 200 DeKalb County men serving in World War II, John was the first to be injured in action. First notice of the incident was noted in the St. Joe News 15 June, 1944: "Also on Tuesday, a telegram came to Mrs. John Harter, stating that he was injured in Italy on May 28, but not seriously." A month later, on 13 July, 1944, the St. Joe News reported, "Charles Harter informs The News that his son, John, has arrived in the States and is located at Charleston, S. C.. He was injured overseas and has lost his right eye and his right arm has two holes through it." "Our orders," explained Pvt. Harter in a July 19 letter home from McCloskey General Hospital in Temple Texas, "had been to move up, replace an outfit that was pinned down by the Jerries and then to break through their lines. Once you start moving up toward the enemy away from cover and your foxhole, you can't stay put in any particular place with natural cover for the simple reason that the enemy will plaster the spot with artillery and mortar shells. The only time you stop for any length of time is when you have no choice and are forced to by enemy fire. That's what happened to our advance. So many artillery shells were going off in our faces and around us that we just had to hit the dirt. It seemed that every shell hit somebody. I was one of a Browning Automatic Rifle squad. A close shell knocked off the other two men. I took a fast dive into a shell hole. It wasn't a very large one so my head stuck out of one end and my feet out of the other. A minute later the sergeant came over to see how I was doing. His coming there was an awful break for him, but it saved my life. The sergeant was lying on the ground between me and the spot where the next shell burst. Shrapnel from the shell killed him instantly and threw his body over mine. The pieces that his body didn't stop tore off my feet, hit me in the arm and the right eye. Americans can be proud of their medical aid men. They continually demonstrate real guts the way they prowl around in shell fire taking care of the men that get hurt. One of them passed by me, and I yelled out to him. He came over and pulled the sergeant's body off of me. I passed out while he was giving me medical aid. I had to lie where I was until 10 o'clock the next day before the firing died down enough for them to carry me out. As I lay there, shells kept going off and pieces whizzed over me all night long. Only one little piece hit me in the arm. Even though I was wounded I was very lucky over there. When we first came ashore at Anzio our LST was hit directly by the 'Anzio Express', a huge German gun which the Jerries fired from way back in the hills. The shell went thru the deck and exploded down below where we were. Trucks and other equipment stopped the flying shrapnel so I wasn't hurt. The 'Anzio Express' shoots a terrific shell, 280 millimeter, the kind that kills you fast. When we got on the Anzio beach we could only dig shallow fox holes. Deep ones would fill with water. During the first night ashore the Jerries bombed our area. If I hadn't been lying flat in my fox hole at the time, a large piece of metal from a bomb that burst close by would have cut me in half. We found the piece the next morning. It had just creased the top of my foxhole." John, promoted to Pfc. after the injury, lost both legs and right eye in the incident. In a War Bond promotional photo printed in the St. Joe News on March 22, 1945, John is shown meeting Comdr. Corydon Wassel. The caption states, "War Bond funds are helping Harter prepare for useful career in two ways: building his morale and fitting him to resume his place in society. Buy and hold more Bonds to aid more wounded fighters." Violet Ruth

41. Carl Russell COOK was born on 17 DEC 1925 in Jackson Township, DeKalb County, Indiana.^{293,294,185,295} DeKalb County birth records, 'The Charles O. Cook Family Record', and the 'Carnahan Family Tree' all say he was born 17 Dec 1925, but a death article published in the Newville Bugler and reprinted in the St. Joe News says he was born 18 Dec 1925. He was a Christian on 20 FEB 1938.²⁹⁶ His obituary says he "accepted Christ and...was buried with his Lord in baptism on 20 FEB 1938". He was a road construction worker in 1942 in Lester Baker. He was a farmer in 1943. He resided on the Todd Kosht farm north of St. Joe on Highway No. 1 in 1943. He was an employee at the Handle Factory in 1943 in Hicksville, Ohio. He was an employee at the International Harvester Co. in 1944 in Fort Wayne, Indiana. He served in the military on 4 MAR 1944 in U S Marine Corps.^{297,298} Carl "took his boot training at Camp Elliott, San Diego, CA, from there he went to Camp I. H. Pendleton, Oceanside, CA, after which he was shipped out for active duty, having received only 4 months of training," reported an April issue of the St. Joe News. An April 5, 1945 issue of the St. Joe News reported, "Mrs. Cook spent some time with her husband when he was in California, before being sent across." He died on 17 MAR 1945 in Iwo Jima.^{299,300,185,301} The St. Joe News on April 5, 1945 first recorded his death, "Carl Cook next to the youngest son of Charles Cook, of north of St. Joe, was killed in action on Iwo Jima on March 17, word having been received Tuesday by his wife, who is living at Hicksville with her parents, and they came to the Cook home to give the message." He was buried on Iwo Jima but his body was later removed to Hawaii. The Newville Bugler, reprinted in the St. Joe News, printed this telegram dated 3 April: "Deeply regret to inform you that your husband, Pvt. Carl Cook, U.S.M.C.R. was killed in action 17 March 1945 at Iwo Jima Volcano Islands in the performance of his duty and service of his country. When information is received regarding burial you will be notified. To prevent possible aid to our enemies do not divulge the name of his ship or station. Please accept my heart-felt sympathy. Letter follows. - A. A. Vandegrift, Lieut. General USMC, Commandant of the Marine Corps." He was educated Sophomore at St. Joe High School.³⁰² Found a death article, with a photo of Carl and Joan, in an Apr 1945 St. Joe News newspaper.

He was married to Joan FORTNEY on 29 MAR 1943.^{303,185,304} "The last letter she received from Carl was written March 15," reports the Newville Bugler article, "and as we talked to her we looked at a beautiful bouquet of roses which Carl had sent her for Easter, mute evidence of his undying love for her." Joan FORTNEY resided 223 E. Edgerton St., Hicksville, Ohio between 1943 and 1945.

42. Joyce Nelline COOK was born on 20 JAN 1927 in DeKalb County, Indiana.^{305,185,306} When asked about early Christmas memories, Joyce remembers no Christmas tree, but they did have simple Christmas decorations within the house. She remembers that they were very poor. Evenings were spent around a round wood table with a kerosene lamp in the center. Once her sister Mary fought with brother Fred at the table. The lamp tipped over and burned Mary badly on her neck and chest. She was ill with Typhoid Fever in 1932. When the fever had passed, she spoke with a stutter which continued throughout her lifetime.

She was married to Wilbur Olan DIEHL (son of James Garfield DIEHL and Hannah Delana DIRRIM) on 1 JUN 1946 in home of bride's parents, rural St. Joe, IN.^{185,307} Wilbur Olan DIEHL was born on 3 OCT 1924 in Butler, Indiana.^{185,308} He remembered that early Christmases usually involved three gifts: 1 toy and 2 items of clothing. They used a real Christmas tree and sometimes an imitation tree with electric lights. He resided 513 E. Main St., Butler, IN between 1946 and 1963. He resided 414 E. Main St., Butler, IN between 1963 and 2000. He served in the military in U S Navy.³⁰⁹ He served in the rank of Coxswain, USN 875-05-72. During World War II he worked on a maintenance crew for a submarine net to protect the bay at Attu, Alaska. These steel nets were 30' deep and bouyed every 80'. The rough seas damaged nets which kept Jap subs out. Wilbur worked on shore repairing these nets. He was a railroad section hand. Prior to his enlistment in the Navy, Wilbur worked one summer for the Wabash Railroad and one summer for the New York Central Railroad. He was a mail carrier in U. S. Postal Service. Dear Betty,

My printer's down, so I must write this the old fashioned way. Here is my computer-generated report entitled 'Descendants of Capt. William Curtis Hollopeter'.

Some notes: I have tried to quote published sources whenever possible, including misspellings and poor English, adding brackets [] around my commentary within the quote.

I'll let you know if I discover other interesting bits of history about W.C. or his children.

Sincerely,

Ralph O. Duhl

0002, 56 Temp A

At 8 AM
leaving the alt site there I am, much better than before. I believe the temperature is about 50° F. The air is very clear and the sun is shining. I have tried to take some pictures but the light is too bright. I will try again later.
I will let you know if I have any other interesting bits of news.
I am still in the U.S. and I am still in the U.S.
